

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

May 3, 2023

The McGinley Clinic Becomes Official Partner and Orthopedic Clinic of Pro Motocross Championship

[Casper, WY] - The McGinley Clinic is excited to announce their partnership with the Pro Motocross Championship, sanctioned by AMA Pro Racing, as an official partner and orthopedic clinic for the series. As part of this partnership, Dr. Joseph McGinley, founder of The McGinley Clinic, will be featured in a new segment during the nationally televised series called "Medical Minute with Dr. McGinley," where he will discuss injury prevention and the latest in treatments for sports and racing injuries.

"We are thrilled to partner with the Pro Motocross Championship as an official partner and orthopedic clinic," said Dr. McGinley. "We are passionate about patient education and helping our patients get back to their sports as quickly as possible. We believe this partnership is a great opportunity to educate riders and fans about the latest technologies and minimally invasive treatments available for sports injuries."

The McGinley Clinic plans to host patient/rider educational symposiums at the races this year. One of the topics will be Dr. McGinley's patented treatment for "Arm Pump," or exertional compartment syndrome in the forearm.

Throughout Dr. McGinley's years as an amateur motocross racer and now a sports medicine interventional physician, he has witnessed firsthand the struggles riders have with Arm Pump. Traditionally, riders who suffer from severe Arm Pump have two options: an aggressive surgery that keeps them off the track for weeks, or as many athletes have sadly found, they must stop riding. With a background in mechanical engineering, Dr. McGinley analyzed the condition and sought to address the root cause. He developed a patented minimally invasive treatment, MVP Treatment or "McGinley Vascular Pressure Treatment". A recent study of this same syndrome in the legs, looking at hundreds of his patients, showed the treatment was 87% effective in treating exertional compartment syndrome. Instead of weeks of recovery from surgery, Dr. McGinley treats riders with an out-patient procedure with minimal downtime. Other minimally invasive treatments offered at the Clinic include Stem Cells, PRP, Tenex Bone Spur removal, carpal tunnel and trigger finger release and many other treatments for orthopedic issues.

The McGinley Clinic team will be attending select Pro Motocross races throughout the season, with Dr. McGinley on site to answer questions and discuss treatment options with racers and fans.

"We are looking forward to interacting with the riders and fans and discussing the latest treatments for sports and riding injuries," said Dr. McGinley. "We believe this partnership is a great opportunity for us to meet riders and their support teams where they are and provide them with information they need to make informed decisions on care for the racers."

Check out "Medical Minute with Dr. McGinley" during the races on Peacock and NBC networks.

For more information about The McGinley Clinic and their services, visit www.mcginleyclinic.com.

Contact: Xerina Kahler, Marketing, The McGinley Clinic, Phone: 307-315-6403, Email: info@mcginleyclinic.com